

Organ Scholarships

at St Mary Merton, SW19

The church of St Mary Merton is seeking to appoint a Junior Organ Scholar for the academic year 2018-2019, with the possibility of on-going renewal. Duties will include accompanying the Choir for Sunday services and occasional feast days and assisting at choir practice, along with the opportunity to conduct the Choir from time to time.

St Mary's lies in a quiet and historic corner of south-west London, in the heart of the Merton Park Conservation Area, south of Wimbledon. A church has stood on the site since before the Domesday Book. Founded by the Augustinian Canons who also founded Merton Priory, parts of the present building date back to 1115; the roof of the nave is more than 900 years old and that of the chancel dates from 1400. The two aisles were built to accommodate the Victorian population explosion. Admiral Nelson was a parishioner at St Mary's, where his pew is still in use! The modern congregation is a thriving, busy community of people from all walks of life. There is a Sunday Club, Youth Group, drama society and a wide variety of other parish groups. Both the 9.30am Parish Eucharist and 6.30pm Choral Evensong services are well-attended. The musical tradition at St Mary's is highly valued by members of the congregation and PCC, and the church hosts a number of concerts and events throughout the year.

The Choir

The Choir sings two services each Sunday (Choral/Sung Eucharist and Choral Evensong), as well as regular cathedral visits (most recently Westminster Abbey and Southwark Cathedral), concerts and civic services. As well as a thriving regular congregation, concerts and special services are well attended.

The Choir is made up of mixed ATB adults and teenage choral scholars, and mixed choristers (aged 7-18) - totalling about 35 singers. St Mary's is one of very few parish churches in London with a treble-only top line - the Choristers receive an extensive music education and many go on to university choral scholarships. The Choir sings a wide range of repertoire from Tallis, Byrd and Gibbons to Vaughan Williams, Sumsion and Howells, as well as contemporary composers including Paul Edwards, James MacMillan and Ben Parry. Examples of recent music lists can be found on our website.

The music department is made up of Helen Smee (Director of Music), Ian Tindale (Visiting Organist), Tristan McElderry (Gap-year Assistant Organist), Harriet Burns (vocal coach) and Bethan Thomas (theory coach).

The Scholarships are designed for school-age and sixth-form organ students looking to develop their playing and gain experience accompanying and Guidance in liturgical playing, choral conducting and preparation for Oxbridge Organ Trials will be offered to the Scholars where appropriate.

FAQs

Do I need to have had a lot of experience singing and accompanying choirs?

- ▶ No. We're looking for young musicians with an enthusiasm to learn and work as a member of a team. You do not need to have played for a church service before to apply.

I haven't been learning the organ that long. Can I still apply?

- ▶ Yes: our Junior Organ Scholarship is designed to support organists who are not yet that experienced. You will get the most out of an organ scholarship if you already have good sight-reading skills at the piano.

Will I be able to use the organ at St Mary's for practice during the week?

- ▶ Yes, absolutely! This is a major benefit for young players and we recognise that finding suitable practice instruments is a big hurdle to the progression of many young organists. You will need to liaise with the church office so that your practice sessions don't conflict with events in church, but there is a lot of flexibility.

Do I need to be a Christian?

- ▶ No, you don't need to have been baptised or confirmed, or be from a family that goes to church regularly. However, you do need to be supportive of the aims of a Christian community.

I'm not sure if I'm good enough. How can I find out more?

- ▶ Contact Helen, the Director of Music; you can come along and meet our current organ scholar, and find out a bit more about what's on offer. We are looking for potential, enthusiasm and commitment, so if in doubt: please get in touch!
